For the first time in twenty-five years, Dr Burt Diddledygook decided not to turn up to the annual meeting of the Royal Academy of Whoopledywhaa...
It was a sunny day in September 1960 bang on noontime and Dr Burt was looking forward to a stroll in the park instead. He hoped his fellow members of the RAW weren’t even going to notice his absence.

Or worse, what would happen when another Academy member had decided to go for a stroll in the park instead? He quickly thought up several possible plans:

- hide behind a tree and duck
- catch the duck as subject material for a speech on the annual meeting
- be frank, meet his colleague, and
  - pat him on the shoulder
  - tell a joke
  - hand him the duck
  - offer him a sip from his 2.5 l bottle of coke
- pull his beard

Or maybe he could still announce his absence from the meeting by sending an antedated letter of apology to Professor M. Orkelidius of the Royal Academy of Whoopledywhaa:

Plenty of options, he thought, sat on a bench and opened the book he had taken from the Whoopledywhaaian National Library.
Module 1: Common Structure, Elements, and Attributes

The National Library of Whoopledywhaa was founded in 1886 with the acquisition of the library of the late King Anthony. It was titled While you are here, by Sir Edmund Peckwood. The manuscript reads 'Petwood'.

While reading the first sentence, his placid expression turned to a certain je ne sais quoi: 'For the first time in twenty-five years, Dr Burt Diddledygook decided not to turn up to the annual meeting of the Royal Academy of Whoopledywhaa.'
