Module 5: Drama

5. Summary

This tutorial module has focused on the encoding of specific phenomena of drama texts in TEI. When all of the concepts discussed are applied to the example text, this is how its transcription could look:

The ball in the box is small.
</sp>

<speaker>COMP</speaker>
I cannot understand such a sentence at the present time.

The black ball is small.

I see.

What is in the box?

A small black ball and a red ball.

(user smiles, stands up, takes a small green ball out of his pocket, walks away throwing and catching the ball)

(Kraftwerk's "Computer Love" accompanies the exit)

Epilogue, spoken by PROG:

And hast thou slain the Jabberwock?
Come to my arms, my beamish boy!
O frabjous day! Callooh! Callay!
He chortled in his joy.

'Twas brillig, and the slithy toves
Did gyre and gimble in the wabe;
All mimsy were the borogoves,
And the mome raths outgrabe.

Hello World, and Goodbye.

Actors:
Alfred Brown
Barry Crowne
